

Funny Little Creatures (c) 2006 Hans Mayer & Frank Gosar

Funny little creatures Lying on my bed
Funny little creatures all around my head
Their eyes are bright and googly and there's toes upon their heads
Funny little creatures, upside down in bed.

The cats are quite astonished, all they do is stare
At the funny little creatures everywhere.

Do they come from Jupiter, do they come they come from Mars
Did they come in flying saucers from some other star?
There's nothing on the planet Earth that really can compare
To the funny little creatures I see everywhere.

The Astronauts are quite astonished, all they do is stare
At the funny little creatures everywhere.

Did they come from nightmares, did they come from dreams
Are they dressed fro Mardi Gras or maybe Halloween?
In coats of many colors, they brighten up the gloom
All the funny little creatures, with me in this room.

I'm quite astonished, all I do is stare
At the funny little creatures everywhere.
